FOREWORD

We the 1961 Bull Staff of Johnson C. Smith University, take great pride in presenting the 1961 Bull. The staff has worked hard and enjoyed it. We hope you will greatly appreciate our efforts because we have worked to make it as accurate as possible, so that you may treasure these memories for many years to come.

Our thanks goes to the fine photographers who were responsible for our pictures and to the publishers of this yearbook, the Delmar Publishing Company.

To the others, too numerous to mention, whose suggestions and criticisms were greatly appreciated, we thank you.

IN YOUR HONOR

To Dr. Joseph A. Grimes, one whose devoted sincerity, loyalty, courageous spirit, many fine deeds and accomplishments, have been exemplified through the student body and the faculty, we express our warm heartfelt pride and gratitude.

It is with our deepest humility and greatest respect that we dedicate "The Bull" to "Dean Grimes". May his nobleness inspire many more Smithites onward to attain success.

OUR PRESIDENT

Our task here is to train free men and women in a free society to the end that they may take their places in that society, possessed of a high degree of civic consciousness, able to respond to the challenges of leadership, and equipped to lead the Good Life. Thus, Johnson C. Smith University is a place, an atmosphere and a tradition in Christian higher education. We want it to remain a place where the freedom to teach and the freedom to learn are carefully maintained.

Let us therefore in our ninety-fourth year renew our pledge to grow stronger in intellectual achievement and in moral atmosphere.

CAMPUS PLEASURES

Just as a sun-beaten rose thirsts for the refreshing kiss of the early morning dew, so, in like manner, do our minds, fatigued with assignments, commitments, and often pressing problems, longingly thirst for moments of pleasurable relaxation. These pleasurable moments are remembered through pictures.

"Classes, classes, and more classes"

The classes of Johnson C. Smith are so designed that they include both required and elective courses. Most classes that are attended by members of this University are those that will help us in our chosen fields.

HUMANITIES

The "brain washer"

The staff has strived hard as a group to do great things for the yearbook.

We have also enjoyed our work in trying to bring you the best Bull possible.

WHAT A FORMATION.....

THE UNIVERSITY

The University Band is composed of the advanced instrumentalists in the university. They are selected on the basis of an audition and character. In the audition the student is required to play several selections and sight-read unfamiliar music.

The purpose of the organization is to give the student an insight into all forms of music—marches, concert, novelty and popular.

In addition to three concerts during the past year, the band has performed at all football games and appeared in numerous parades. Through its participation in school functions the University Band encourages "Smith Spirit."

Under the auspices of Christopher W. Kemp, the Johnson C. Smith University Choir is the regular church choir which is heard in the University Church every Sunday morning at 11.00 o'clock on the campus.

The Choir performs both a cappella and accompanied music, although emphasis is placed on a cappella choral literature. Church music is an important part of the choir because of its close association with the Church. However, secular compositions, spirituals and folksongs are rendered by the Choir.

Gerado Stroud, a sophomore at the University, is accompanist for the Choir.

Encouraging student Participation in school affairs, establishing better understanding between faculty and students, and promoting student activities—these are the major purposes of the Student Christian Association. Through the S.C.A., training in citizenship is provided, leadership ability is developed, and school spirit is kept on a high standard.

If you present your idea and it is useful, good, and has merit, many will join you in supporting it. And if, later, others should present their principles, many will join them, each according to his or her choice. So it goes on the campuses of many institutions of higher learning. Many students each year, believing in certain principles and ideals, join with others of similar thinking and become members of various sororities and fraternities.

The Pan-Hellenic Council is the governing body of all Greek-letter organizations and pledge clubs on campus. Composed of thirteen representatives from each sorority and fraternity, it is primarily concerned with affairs that are of common interest to all Greeks. The presidency of the council rotates each year among the various organizations. Probably the ultimate aim of the Pan-Hellenic Council is the establishment and perpetuation of the feeling of sisterhood and brotherhood towards all Greeks, regardless of individual affiliation.

"Come one and all good fellow Greeks,
Let's all join hands and sing,
Let's raise our heads and standards high
And let our voices ring."

Take it easy man....

"What goes up must come down."

"Johnson" leaps again with his long arms.

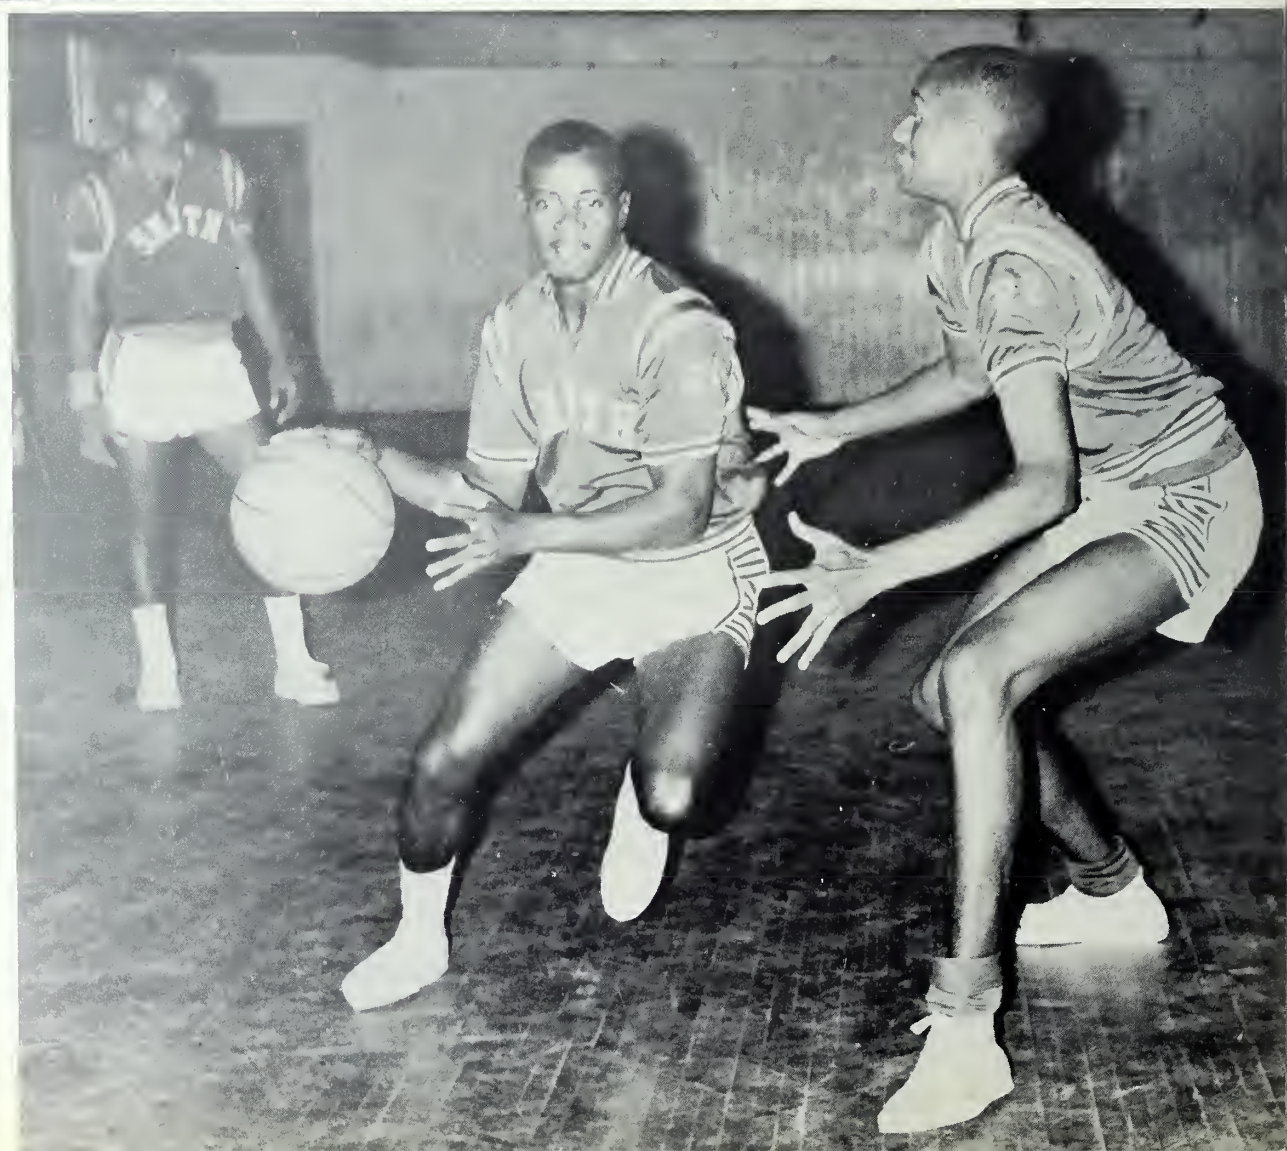

Keep your eyes on the ball.

Follow the bouncing ball.

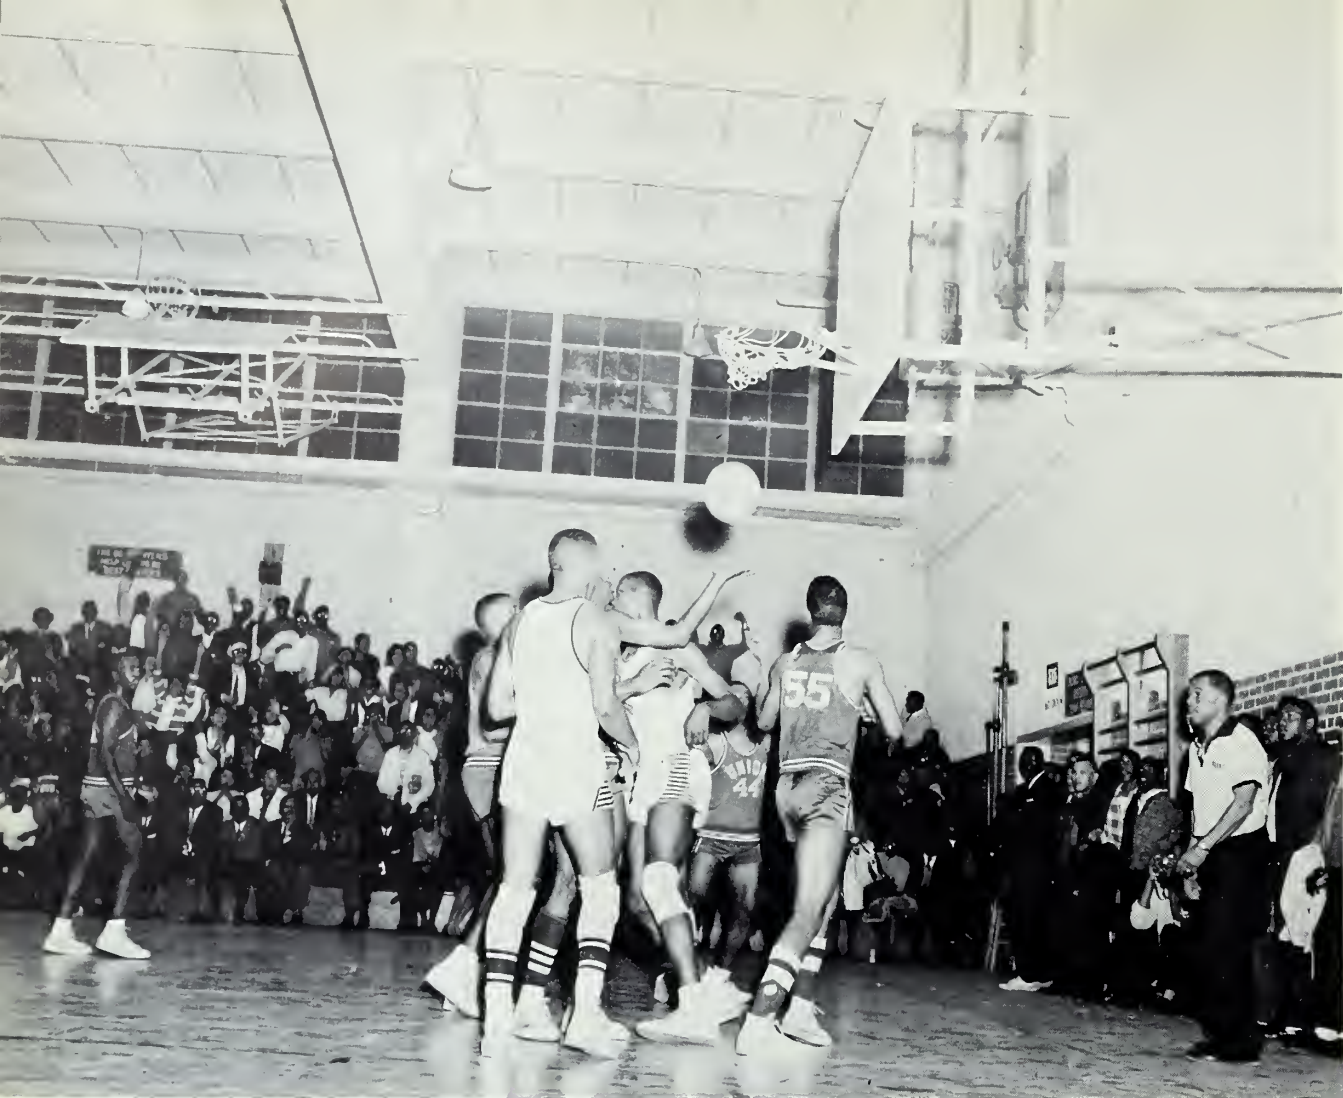

George's dribbling dazzles Dabney.

It's coming down.

Fancy meeting you here.

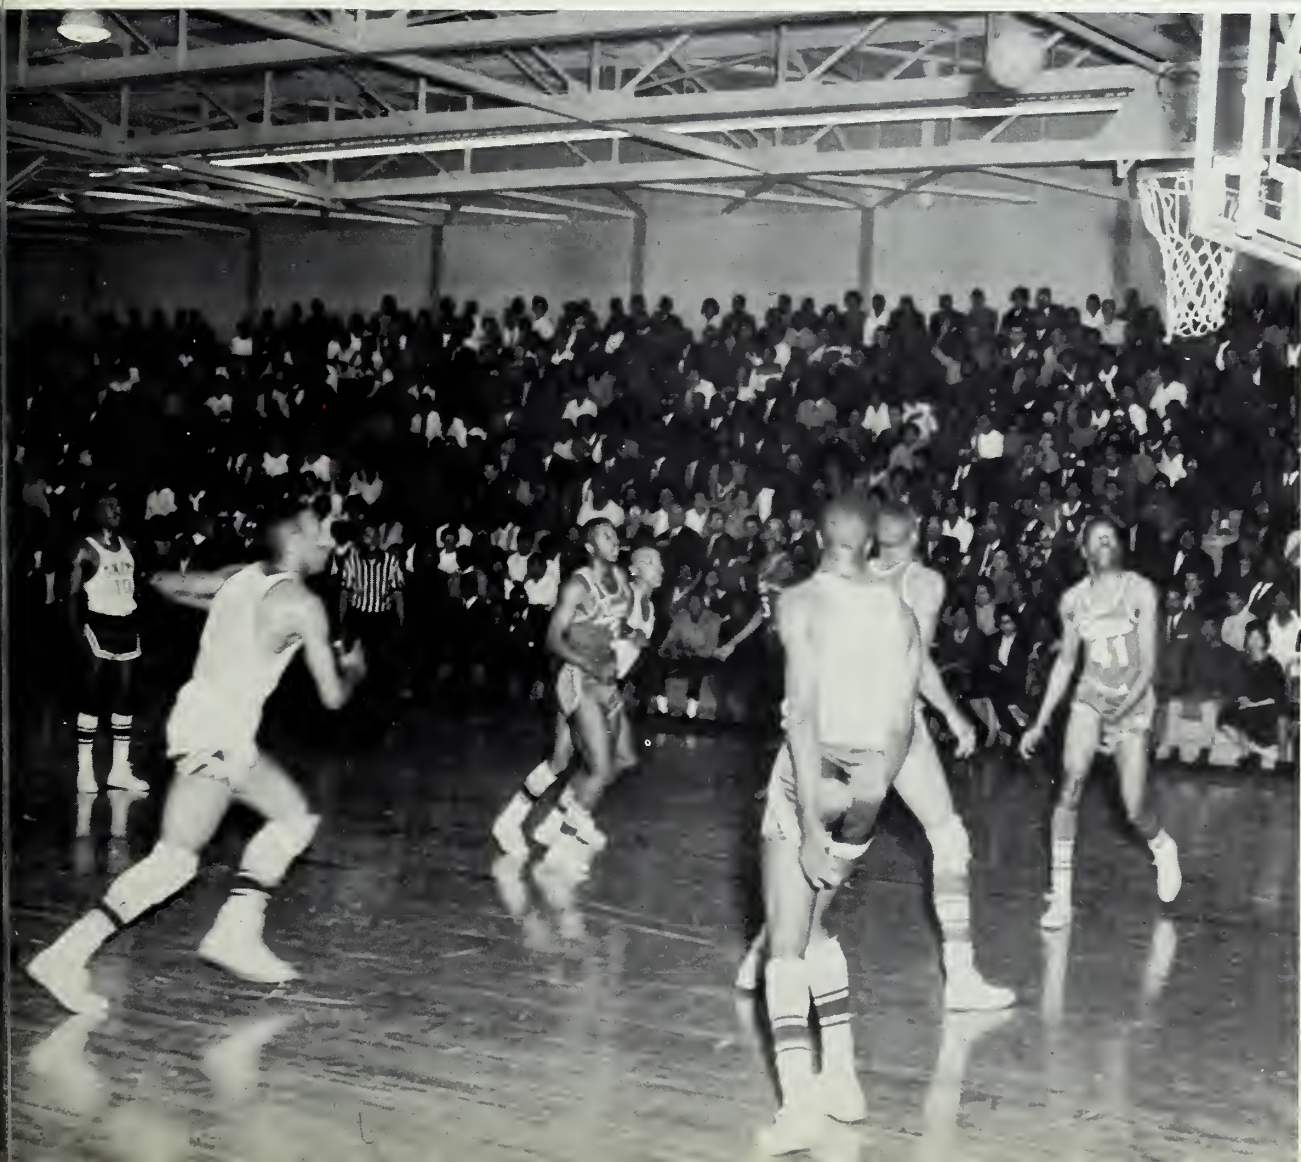

"Fox" hits it for 2!

"Too many cooks spoil the broth."

This is it. What? The New Gym!

"Man" what a shot.

TENNIS

Coached by Doctor Winston R. Coleman, the tennis team has made great strides in recent years.

With only three returning lettermen, Doctor Coleman is faced with a rebuilding problem. But with the type of spirit and drive the Bulls have shown in the past, it seems certain that the team will claim its share of net victories.
